"MUSIC BY WOMEN COMPOSERS" AT U. LOWELL

LOWELL, MASS. - The University of Lowell's College of Music presents violinist Dorothy Bales in a free concert of "Music By Women Composers," Wednesday, January 24, at 2:00 PM in Durgin Performing Arts Center.

Dorothy Bales is an international performer, having appeared in Paris, Vienna, Salzburg, Washington, and New York. As a soloist she has played with orchestras such as the Boston Pops, L'Orchestra de Chambre de l'Athenee of Switzerland, and the Aegina Arts Center Orchestra in Greece.

Also a chamber music player, she has participated in the Marlboro Festival, and founded the Boston Chamber Players. A lecturer in music at Emmanuel College and Northeastern University, she is president of the Massachusetts chapter of the American String Teachers Association.

The afternoon's program was the theme of a concert tour of schools in Maryland and Pennsylvania in 1977 by Dorothy Bales and pianist Allan Sly, also featured in this concert.

Durgin Performing Arts Center is located at Pawtucket and Wilder Streets in Lowell, and the public is invited.
